Question

Correct responses

4/15 from the K35. K1, in a proper scrimmage kick formation, catches the snap and kicks a deep punt. While the ball is in the air, well past the line of scrimmage and expanded neutral zone, R1 blocks K1 in the back at the K30. K1 had finished the act of kicking the ball and had started to voluntarily move downfield to join the play at the time of the contact. R12 completes a fair catch at the R30. Which 2 apply:

Who has what for a call? Time to get it right is NOW!

Yes, to ensure all officials have the same call and enforcement action.

Yes, to ensure we all have the same penalty

no

No discussion needed if all officials have the same thing. Crew should develop some sort of signal to quickly let R know what they have. If there is disagreement, then a discussion would be needed.

I would just to double check if all the same officials saw the same play.

no discussion needed.

Should ask before signaling we don't want a offside by one official and false start by another
